PART B — MAIN MANUSCRIPT

TITLE

[Insert the manuscript title. Keep it specific, concise, and informative.]

ABSTRACT

[Write a concise summary of the study. For an original research article, briefly state the background/problem, objective, methodology, sample or data source, key findings, and conclusion. Use the word limit stated in the journal's Author Guidelines. If no limit is specified, confirm the expected limit with the editorial office.]

Suggested structure for empirical research: Background/Objectives; Methodology; Results; Conclusion.

KEYWORDS

[Provide 4–6 specific keywords separated by semicolons.]

INTRODUCTION

[Introduce the topic and context; explain the research problem, rationale, significance, relevant literature, research gap, objectives/research questions, and hypotheses where applicable. Cite sources consistently.]

REVIEW OF RELATED LITERATURE

[Summarize and critically synthesize relevant research. Identify the gap your manuscript addresses. This section may be integrated into the Introduction when appropriate.]

OBJECTIVES / RESEARCH QUESTIONS / HYPOTHESES

[List the study objectives, research questions, and/or hypotheses, as applicable.]

METHODOLOGY

- Research Design: [Enter design and rationale here]
- Population and Sample / Data Source: [Enter population, sample size, sampling method, inclusion criteria or data source here]
- Tools / Materials / Measures: [Enter instruments, validity, reliability, materials or measures here]
- Procedure / Data Collection: [Enter steps, setting, dates or period, and data collection procedures here]
- Data Analysis: [Enter statistical tests, qualitative analysis approach, software, and decision criteria, as applicable here]
- Ethical Considerations: [Enter ethics approval, informed consent, confidentiality and data protection, where applicable here]

RESULTS / FINDINGS

[Present findings clearly and objectively. Use tables and figures where helpful. Number each table/figure, give it a descriptive title/caption, and refer to it in the text. Do not duplicate all table data in prose.]

DISCUSSION

[Interpret the findings, relate them to previous research and the study objectives, explain implications, and discuss unexpected results where relevant.]

CONCLUSION AND IMPLICATIONS

[Summarize the principal conclusions supported by the results. State practical/theoretical implications, limitations, and recommendations for future research where appropriate.]

REFERENCES

[List only works cited in the manuscript. Ensure every in-text citation has a matching reference and every reference is cited in the text. Apply one consistent style. If APA 7 is required or selected, use APA 7 formatting.]

Examples (APA 7 style):

Book: Author, A. A. (Year). Title of the book. Publisher.

Website: Organization or Author. (Year, Month Day). Title of webpage. Website Name. URL

Note: These are formatting examples only. Replace them with complete and accurate bibliographic details.
